Fund and Market Commentary

During September the Bloomberg AusBond Cash Benchmark returned 0.14% while the Alpha Diversified Income Fund lagged. So far the Fund has gathered limited return history and therefore no comment can yet be made about its long-term performance.

Looking at Central bank activity, the Bank of Japan announced it will modify its quantitative easing program while the European Central Bank held fire on policy action. Members of the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) met in September and voted in favour of keeping rates steady. The meeting minutes highlighted that while 'job gains have been solid' and 'household spending has been growing strongly', 'inflation is expected to remain low in the near term'. While the case for higher rates is building, the lack of inflation in the near-term will make it difficult for the Federal Reserve (FED) to move rates materially higher.

Demand for United States Treasury Notes was higher this month with yields on two year Treasury Notes down four basis points at 0.7619%, while the ten year Note rose one basis point to 1.5944%. Australian two year Government bond yields rose eleven basis points, while the ten year bond was eight basis points higher at 1.547% and 1.908% respectively. European sovereign bonds were mixed, with German yields down five basis points to negative 0.119%, while Italian 10 year bonds ended the month four basis point higher at 1.188%.

The Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) decided to keep the cash rate steady at 1.50%, while the Australian Dollar (AUD) rose 1.88% ending the month at 0.7659 United States (US) cents.

Considering the prospects for assets beyond short-term volatility, our preference is to take a longer term approach to the markets. This does not mean we are not actively managing the Fund. To the contrary, the structure of our Fund is always reflective of our current assessment of market risk. In structuring the Alpha Diversified Fixed Income Fund, Alpha Fund Managers seek to select managers demonstrating a proven track record in managing risk and generating long-term outperformance. These managers are then blended to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.

About Alpha Fund Managers

Alpha Fund Managers' investment philosophy is based on the premise that there are particular investment managers that have the ability to consistently generate "alpha" over the medium to long-term, and through all financial market cycles irrespective of any style bias (growth vs. value, large cap vs. small cap, etc.). "Alpha" in this context is defined as an investment manager's unique ability to select a portfolio of securities that differs from and outperforms its benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. In other words, it is an investment manager's ability to beat the index. Alpha Fund Managers' investment process is based on a balanced approach to quantitative and qualitative research and analysis techniques to assess and select the underlying investment managers in each Alpha Fund Series fund. Alpha Fund Managers seek to add value by selecting investment managers who demonstrate a high-level of investment conviction, unique investment processes and a proven record in managing risk and generating long-term "alpha" over full market cycle. Alpha Fund Managers then blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.
