

Alpha Alternatives Fund - Snapshot

Morningstar Category: Alternative Strategies - Diversified Inception Date: 6/02/2013

Fund and Market Commentary

During April, the Bloomberg AusBond Cash benchmark returned 0.20% while the Alpha Alternatives Fund lagged. Given limited performance history no comment can be made about the Funds long-term performance.

Equity markets were largely positive over April with rising oil and commodity prices providing a tailwind. That said, much of the appreciation of commodities such as iron ore and steel rebar has been attributed to massive Chinese speculation, leading to fears of a bubble.

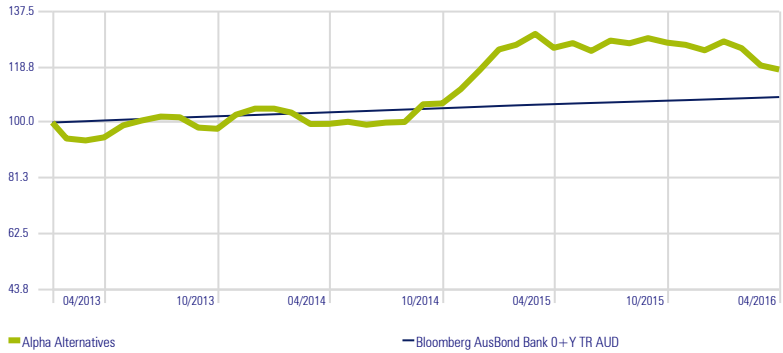

Given the United States Federal Reserve (FED) is communicating a more dovish position based on the outlook for subdued economic growth, market participants are not expecting a rate rise when the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meets in June. Conversely, Haruhiko Kuroda, chairman of the Bank of Japan (BOJ) surprised investors when he announced asset purchases would remain unchanged in April. This caused a surge in the Japanese Yen, the biggest daily gain in more than seven years, as investors reacted to the news.

European markets improved in April, with Germany's DAX up 0.09% while Italy's MIB index rose 2.67% and the FTSE 100 lifted 1.09%. Asian markets were weaker with Japan's Nikkei 225 index dropping 0.71%, while China's Shanghai Composite was down 2.18%.

Considering the prospects for assets beyond short-term noise and volatility, our preference is to take a longer term approach to the markets. This does not mean we are not actively managing the Fund. To the contrary, the structure of our Fund is always reflective of our most current assessment of market risk. In structuring the fund, Alpha Fund Managers seek to select high quality managers and blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.

About Alpha Fund Managers

Alpha Fund Managers' investment philosophy is based on the premise that there are particular investment managers that have the ability to consistently generate "alpha" over the medium to long-term and through all financial market cycles irrespective of any style bias (growth vs. value, large cap vs. small cap, etc.). "Alpha" in this context is defined as an investment manager's unique ability to select a portfolio of securities that differs from and outperforms its benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. In other words, it is an investment manager's ability to beat the index. Alpha Fund Managers' investment process is based on a balanced approach to quantitative and qualitative research and analysis techniques to assess and select the underlying investment managers in each Alpha Fund Series fund. Alpha Fund Managers seek to add value by selecting investment managers demonstrating high-level of investment conviction, unique investment processes and proven record in managing risk and generating long-term "alpha" over full market cycle. Alpha Fund Managers then blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.
