Fund and Market Commentary

During January the Bloomberg AusBond Cash Benchmark returned 0.20% while the Alpha Diversified Income Fund lagged by 0.09%. So far the Fund has gathered limited return history and therefore no comment can yet be made about its long-term performance.

Following the United States Federal Reserve (FED) rate rise of 0.25% in December there has been a sell-off in equity markets with this January being the worst since 2008. Given this backdrop, market participants have lowered expectations for successive rate rises in the United States (US). In contrast, other central banks are still expanding their monetary policy with the European Central Bank (ECB) poised for further stimulus, while the Bank of Japan (BOJ) made history setting the country's first negative interest rate.

US Treasury Notes were in demand this month with yields on 2 year Treasury Notes down 27 basis points at 0.774% while the 10 year Note dropped 34 basis points to 1.92%. The US unemployment rate was lower in January at 4.9%, while non-farm payrolls increased by 151,000. The Annual GDP Growth Rate fell 1.3% from last quarter to 0.7%, while the inflation rate reading was 0.2% higher at 0.7%.

Within the Eurozone, inflation rose 0.2% to 0.4% in January while Sovereign bond yields were materially lower with German and Italian 10 year bonds ending the month at 0.325% and 1.415% respectively.

Australian 2 year Government bond yields fell 12 basis points while the 10 year bond was 25 basis points lower at 1.893% and 2.635% respectively. The Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) continues to hold rates at 2%.

Considering the prospects for assets beyond short-term volatility, our preference is to take a longer term approach to the markets. This does not mean we are not actively managing the Fund. To the contrary, the structure of our Fund is always reflective of our current assessment of market risk. In structuring the Alpha Diversified Fixed Income Fund, Alpha Fund Managers seek to select managers demonstrating a proven track record in managing risk and generating long-term outperformance. These managers are then blended to create portfolios that can achieve consistent absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.

About Alpha Fund Managers

Alpha Fund Managers' investment philosophy is based on the premise that there are particular investment managers that have the ability to consistently generate "alpha" over the medium to long-term and through all financial market cycles irrespective of any style bias (growth vs. value, large cap vs. small cap, etc.). "Alpha" in this context is defined as an investment manager's unique ability to select a portfolio of securities that differs from and outperforms its benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. In other words, it is an investment manager's ability to beat the index. Alpha Fund Managers' investment process is based on a balanced approach to quantitative and qualitative research and analysis techniques to assess and select the underlying investment managers in each Alpha Fund Series fund. Alpha Fund Managers seek to add value by selecting investment managers demonstrating high-level of investment conviction, unique investment processes and proven record in managing risk and generating long-term "alpha" over full market cycle. Alpha Fund Managers then blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.
