Fund and Market Commentary

The ASX200 Listed Property Index rose 0.62% during March while the Alpha Property Securities Fund lagged. Over longer periods, the Fund's performance remains competitive to the benchmark.

The CoreLogic RP Data Daily Home Value Index rose in March with the 5 capital city aggregate up by 1.37%. Sydney and Melbourne made the biggest monthly gains at 1.92% and 1.41% respectively, while Adelaide grew the least at 0.42%. The Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) has reported an unexpected increase in the unemployment rate from 5.7% to 5.9%, with policy makers already concerned about the real strength of the labour market given previous employment growth was mainly driven by part-time jobs. Retail turnover rose 0.1% month on month, bringing the total annualised increase to 2.9%. ABS building approvals and housing finance approvals rose 0.8% and 0.4% monthly respectively. The Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) held the cash rate at 1.5%, while the United States Federal Open Market Committee decided to raise the federal funds rate by 25 basis points to 1%, which will lead to higher Australian bank funding costs. The Australian big four banks all raised home loan rates due to rising costs and regulatory responsibilities. The RBA highlighted the accumulated risks of the housing market as a result of the widening gap of house prices between cities in the east and west of Australia, and an acceleration of the household debt.

In the current environment, the Fund continues to be positioned towards stocks that offer stable and recurring high quality income streams, with a focus on high quality assets, robust underlying fundamentals and strong capital structures. In structuring the Fund, Alpha Fund Managers seek to select managers demonstrating a proven track record in managing risk and generating long-term outperformance.

About Alpha Fund Managers

Alpha Fund Managers' investment philosophy is based on the premise that there are particular investment managers that have the ability to consistently generate "alpha" over the medium to long-term, and through all financial market cycles irrespective of any style bias (growth vs. value, large cap vs. small cap, etc.). "Alpha" in this context is defined as an investment manager's unique ability to select a portfolio of securities that differs from and outperforms its benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. In other words, it is an investment manager's ability to beat the index. Alpha Fund Managers' investment process is based on a balanced approach to quantitative and qualitative research and analysis techniques to assess and select the underlying investment managers in each Alpha Fund Series fund. Alpha Fund Managers seek to add value by selecting investment managers who demonstrate a high-level of investment conviction, unique investment processes and a proven record in managing risk and generating long-term "alpha" over full market cycles. Alpha Fund Managers then blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.
