

Alpha Infrastructure Fund - Snapshot

Morningstar Category: Infrastructure - Global
 Inception Date: 1/02/2012

Fund and Market Commentary

The S&P Global Infrastructure benchmark rose 2.96% in June while the Alpha Infrastructure fund lagged. The Fund has so far gathered limited return history and therefore no comment can be made about its long-term performance.

Global equity markets were very volatile in June following the United Kingdom's (UK) surprise referendum vote to leave the European Union. While it was a wild ride, the UK stock market performed handsomely with the FTSE 100 returning 4.39%. This was largely driven by the stunning devaluation of the pound, increasing overseas earnings and profitability for a number of companies when converted to local currency. In contrast to the UK, European markets felt the pain in June, with Germany's DAX down 5.77% and Italy's MIB index lower by a whopping 10.14%.

United States (US) equity markets rose over June with the Dow Jones and S&P 500 indices up by 0.80% and by 0.09% respectively. The US unemployment rate rose by 0.2% in June to 4.9%, while non-farm payrolls increased by a healthy 287,000. The US inflation rate reading was 0.1% lower at 1%.

Asian markets were mixed with Japan's Nikkei 225 index down a hefty 9.47% while China's Shanghai Composite fared better rising 0.45%.

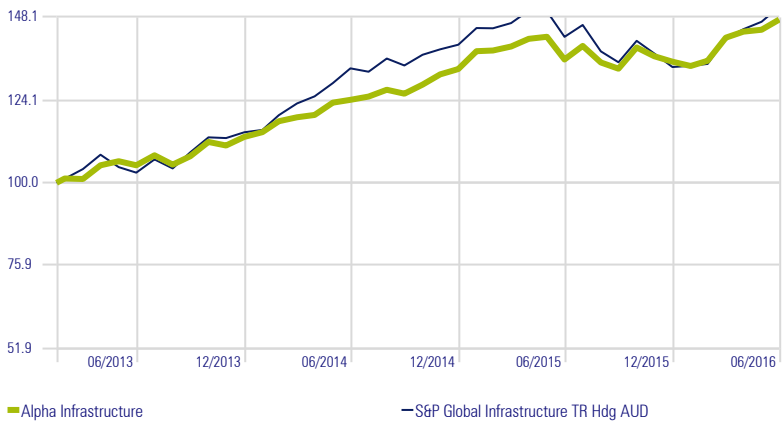

Considering the prospects for assets beyond short-term volatility, our preference is to take a longer term approach to the markets. This does not mean we are not actively managing the Fund. To the contrary, the structure of our Fund is always reflective of our current assessment of market risk. In structuring the Fund, Alpha Fund Managers seek to select high quality managers and blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.

Fund Style: Actively Managed Australian Equity Large Blend Portfolio

Current Manager Line-up

Magellan Asset Management Limited is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Australian Securities Exchange-listed Magellan Financial Group Limited. Magellan establishes and operates globally focused investment funds for retail, high net worth and institutional investors.

The Magellan Infrastructure Strategy invests in global listed infrastructure securities. Magellan believes that quality infrastructure assets have two key characteristics: the asset provides a service that is essential for the efficient functioning of a community, and the cash-flows generated by the asset are reliable and do not face external risks (such as sovereign risk, competition, commodity price movements or technological obsolescence). The Magellan Infrastructure strategy aims to provide consistent long-term absolute returns, which exceed the risk adjusted returns expected of the asset class.

Manager Style: High Conviction Global Infrastructure

RARE Infrastructure Limited was established in 2006 and is a specialist investment manager in global infrastructure securities. The RARE investment team consists of a highly skilled group of 13 investment professionals with over 120 years of combined infrastructure experience and over 80 years combined funds management experience. As at March 2016, RARE manages approximately USD $6.3b for institutional and retail clients worldwide. RARE believes that a portfolio of global infrastructure securities should deliver good returns across all market cycles with relatively low volatility. RARE stands for "Risk Adjusted Returns to Equity" and is specifically focused on reducing the chance of loss.

RARE is 75% owned by Legg Mason, with Treasury Group holding 10% and senior staff owning the remaining 15% of the business. RARE believes this aligns the interests of the staff with those of investors.

About Alpha Fund Managers

Alpha Fund Managers' investment philosophy is based on the premise that there are particular investment managers that have the ability to consistently generate "alpha" over the medium to long-term, and through all financial market cycles irrespective of any style bias (growth vs. value, large cap vs. small cap, etc.). "Alpha" in this context is defined as an investment manager's unique ability to select a portfolio of securities that differs from and outperforms its benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. In other words, it is an investment manager's ability to beat the index. Alpha Fund Managers' investment process is based on a balanced approach to quantitative and qualitative research and analysis techniques to assess and select the underlying investment managers in each Alpha Fund Series fund. Alpha Fund Managers seek to add value by selecting investment managers demonstrating a high-level of investment conviction, unique investment processes and proven record in managing risk and generating long-term "alpha" over full market cycle. Alpha Fund Managers then blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.
