Fund and Market Commentary

During April the Bloomberg AusBond Cash Benchmark returned 0.20% while the Alpha Diversified Income Fund outperformed by 0.52%. So far the Fund has gathered limited return history and therefore no comment can yet be made about its long-term performance.

Given the United States Federal Reserve (FED) is communicating a more dovish position based on the outlook for subdued economic growth, market participants are not expecting a rate rise when the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meets in June. Conversely, Haruhiko Kuroda, chairman of the Bank of Japan (BOJ) surprised investors when he announced asset purchases would remain unchanged in April. This caused a surge in the Japanese Yen, the biggest daily gain in more than seven years, as investors reacted to the news.

Demand for United States Treasury Notes was lacklustre this month with yields on two year Treasury Notes up six basis points at 0.7816% while the ten year Note rose six basis points to 1.8333%. Australian two year Government bond yields fell eight basis points, while the ten year bond was one basis point lower at 1.86% and 2.517% respectively.

In economic releases the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) has reported the annual Gross Domestic Product growth rate expanded 0.3% last quarter to 3%, while the unemployment rate remained steady at 5.8%. ABS figures showed retail turnover grew 0.2% month on month bringing the total annualised increase to 3.6%. The Australian Dollar (AUD) ended the month largely flat at 0.76 United States (US) cents after retreating from a high of 0.7837. The Reserve Bank of Australia (RBA) continues to hold rates at 2%.

Considering the prospects for assets beyond short-term volatility, our preference is to take a longer term approach to the markets. This does not mean we are not actively managing the Fund. To the contrary, the structure of our Fund is always reflective of our current assessment of market risk. In structuring the Alpha Diversified Fixed Income Fund, Alpha Fund Managers seek to select managers demonstrating a proven track record in managing risk and generating long-term outperformance. These managers are then blended to create portfolios that can achieve consistent absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.

About Alpha Fund Managers

Alpha Fund Managers' investment philosophy is based on the premise that there are particular investment managers that have the ability to consistently generate "alpha" over the medium to long-term and through all financial market cycles irrespective of any style bias (growth vs. value, large cap vs. small cap, etc.). "Alpha" in this context is defined as an investment manager's unique ability to select a portfolio of securities that differs from and outperforms its benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. In other words, it is an investment manager's ability to beat the index. Alpha Fund Managers' investment process is based on a balanced approach to quantitative and qualitative research and analysis techniques to assess and select the underlying investment managers in each Alpha Fund Series fund. Alpha Fund Managers seek to add value by selecting investment managers demonstrating high-level of investment conviction, unique investment processes and proven record in managing risk and generating long-term "alpha" over full market cycle. Alpha Fund Managers then blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.
