

Alpha Enhanced Yield - Snapshot

Morningstar Category: Australia OE Multi-Strategy Income
 Inception Date: 2/04/2007

Fund and Market Commentary

During March the Bloomberg AusBond Cash benchmark returned 0.20% while the Alpha Enhanced Yield Fund outperformed by 1.34%. Over longer periods the Fund's return has significantly outperformed the benchmark.

The United States Federal Reserve (FED) has become more dovish on the backdrop of weakening economics, opting not to raise rates during the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) meeting in March. Meanwhile, the European Central Bank expanded monetary policy, announcing a 20 billion EUR increase in their monthly asset purchases.

The United States (US) unemployment rate rose 0.1% in March to 5%, while non-farm payrolls increased by 215,000. United States Treasury Notes were higher, with yields on 2 year Treasury Notes down 11 basis points at 0.721%, while the 10 year Note dropped 6 basis points to 1.769%. The Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) has reported the unemployment rate was flat at 5.8%. Australian 2 year Government bond yields rose 16 basis points, while the 10 year bond was 13 basis points higher at 1.897% and 2.489% respectively.

Considering the prospects for assets beyond short-term volatility, our preference is to take a longer term approach to the markets. This does not mean we are not actively managing the Fund. To the contrary, the structure of our Fund is always reflective of our current assessment of market risk. In structuring the Alpha Enhanced Yield Fund, Alpha Fund Managers seeks to select managers demonstrating a proven track record in managing risk and generating long-term outperformance. These managers are then blended to create portfolios that can achieve consistent absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.

About Alpha Fund Managers

Alpha Fund Managers' investment philosophy is based on the premise that there are particular investment managers that have the ability to consistently generate "alpha" over the medium to long-term and through all financial market cycles irrespective of any style bias (growth vs. value, large cap vs. small cap, etc.). "Alpha" in this context is defined as an investment manager's unique ability to select a portfolio of securities that differs from and outperforms its benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. In other words, it is an investment manager's ability to beat the index. Alpha Fund Managers' investment process is based on a balanced approach to quantitative and qualitative research and analysis techniques to assess and select the underlying investment managers in each Alpha Fund Series fund. Alpha Fund Managers seek to add value by selecting investment managers demonstrating high-level of investment conviction, unique investment processes and proven record in managing risk and generating long-term "alpha" over full market cycles. Alpha Fund Managers then blend these managers so as to create portfolios that can achieve consistent absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.
