Fund and Market Commentary

During November, the Bloomberg AusBond Cash Benchmark returned 0.13% while the Alpha Diversified Income Fund underperformed the benchmark. Over longer periods, the Fund's performance remains competitive to the benchmark.

Global sovereign bond yields moved differently due to the divergence of monetary policies. In the United States (US), the two year Treasury Note yield jumped eighteen basis points to 1.782%, while the ten year Note was up three basis points to 2.410%. The short-term yields rose on the back of increasing market expectations of an interest rate hike and Jerome Powell's appointment as the new chair of the Federal Reserve, seen as a continuation of the current monetary policy. But the inflation remains moderate that the Federal Reserve expressed their concerns on the low inflation rate in the last meeting minutes. The spread between the two year and ten year notes is shrinking to its lowest since 2007. The Consumer Price Index rose a moderate 0.1% in October and 2% on an annual basis and the core inflation, excluding food and energy, rose to 1.8%. In contrast, Australian bond yields continued to decrease in light of a small chance of the Reserve Bank of Australia raising the rate in the short term, with two year bond closing the month nine basis points lower to 1.735%, while the ten year bond fell seventeen basis points to 2.499%. The yield of US two year Treasury Note exceeded Australian two year government bond's for the first time over more than a decade.

In Europe, Germany and the United Kingdom (UK) ten year yields remained nearly flat at 0.367% and 1.330% respectively, while Italian yields eased a slight eight points to 1.748%. In Germany, Chancellor Angela Merkel's efforts to form a coalition government failed as the Free Democratic Party unexpectedly pulled out of the negotiation, leaving Ms Merkel under the pressure of forming a minority government or new elections. The UK and European Union reached an agreement on a Brexit divorce bill, moving proceedings onto the second phase with more details to be finalised.

Considering the prospects for assets beyond short-term volatility, our preference is to take a longer term approach to the markets. This does not mean we are not actively managing the Fund. To the contrary, the structure of our Fund is always reflective of our current assessment of market risk. In structuring the Alpha Diversified Fixed Income Fund, Alpha Fund Managers seek to select managers demonstrating a proven track record in managing risk and generating long-term outperformance. These managers are then blended to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.

About Alpha Fund Managers

Alpha Fund Managers' investment philosophy is based on the premise that there are particular investment managers that have the ability to consistently generate "alpha" over the medium to long-term, and through all financial market cycles irrespective of any style bias (growth vs. value, large cap vs. small cap, etc.). "Alpha" in this context is defined as an investment manager's unique ability to select a portfolio of securities that differs from and outperforms its benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. In other words, it is an investment manager's ability to beat the index. Alpha Fund Managers' investment process is based on a balanced approach to quantitative and qualitative research and analysis techniques to assess and select the underlying investment managers in each Alpha Fund Series fund. Alpha Fund Managers seek to add value by selecting investment managers who demonstrate a high-level of investment conviction, unique investment processes and a proven record in managing risk and generating long-term "alpha" over full market cycle. Alpha Fund Managers then blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.
