Morningstar Category: Alternative Strategies - Diversified

Fund and Market Commentary

During October, the Bloomberg AusBond Cash benchmark returned 0.15%, while the Alpha Alternatives Fund outperformed the benchmark by 0.91%. Over longer periods, the Fund's performance remains competitive to the benchmark.

Macro/CTA index strategies fell during October with the hedge fund composite index dropping 1.08%. Global equity markets had another month of positive return. On the economic front, the United States (US) economy grew at an annualised rate of 3% in the third quarter, only 0.1% lower than the previous quarter, well above the expected growth of 2.5%. The inflation rate increased 0.3% year on year to 2.2% in September, backed by higher energy prices as a result of production disruptions at oil refineries in the Gulf Coast area. In the October/November US Federal Reserve (Fed) meeting, the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) decided to keep the federal fund rates on hold at 1-1.25% and started normalising its $4.4 trillion balance sheet by reducing $6 billion Treasury securities during each calendar month. The US equity market rose over October with the Dow Jones adding 4.34% and S&P 500 up by 2.22%

In Europe, the improving economic data stimulated a surge of the local equity markets. The Euro Area third quarter GDP growth was 0.6%, bringing the annualised growth rate to 2.5%, while the unemployment rate fell 0.1% to 8.9%, the lowest for the past eight years. European equity markets were mostly in black with Germany's DAX lifting 3.12%, Italy's MIB index up by 0.43% and the UK's FTSE 100 index growing by 1.63%. Turning to Asia, Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe won the national snap election with a supermajority, which means Mr Abe can continue to pursue his policies, building a defence force to deal with the threat posted by North Korea and working through the details of a consumption tax hike to boost the economy. Asian markets powered ahead in October with Japan's Nikkei 225 index soaring 8.13%, China's Shanghai Composite gaining 1.33%, while the Hong Kong Hang Seng Index lifted 2.51%.

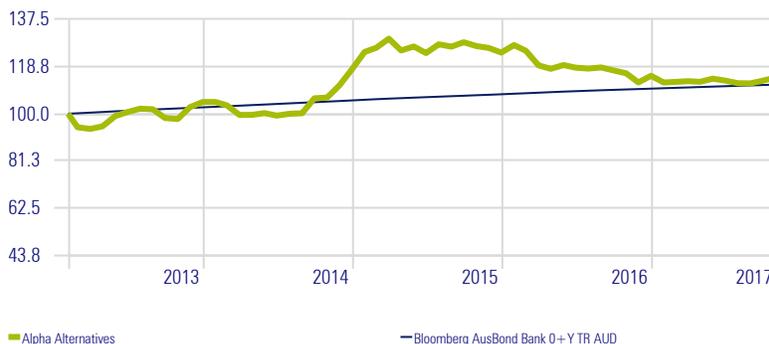

Considering the prospects for assets beyond short-term noise and volatility, our preference is to take a longer term approach to the markets. This does not mean we are not actively managing the Fund. To the contrary, the structure of our Fund is always reflective of our most current assessment of market risk. In structuring the fund, Alpha Fund Managers seek to select high quality managers and blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.

About Alpha Fund Managers

Alpha Fund Managers' investment philosophy is based on the premise that there are particular investment managers that have the ability to consistently generate "alpha" over the medium to long-term, and through all financial market cycles irrespective of any style bias (growth vs. value, large cap vs. small cap, etc.). "Alpha" in this context is defined as an investment manager's unique ability to select a portfolio of securities that differs from and outperforms its benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. In other words, it is an investment manager's ability to beat the index. Alpha Fund Managers' investment process is based on a balanced approach to quantitative and qualitative research and analysis techniques to assess and select the underlying investment managers in each Alpha Fund Series fund. Alpha Fund Managers seek to add value by selecting investment managers who demonstrate a high-level of investment conviction, unique investment processes and a proven record in managing risk and generating long-term "alpha" over full market cycle. Alpha Fund Managers then blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performance, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.
