Fund and Market Commentary

The S&P/ASX Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index jumped 1.99% in June while the Alpha Small Companies Fund outperformed the benchmark by 0.69%. The best sector performance came from Health Care and Information Tech, while Energy and Utilities underperformed. Since inception, the Fund has consistently outperformed its benchmark.

According to the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS), the Australian Gross Domestic Product (GDP) growth rate fell from 1.1% last quarter to 0.3% in the March quarter, bringing the annual economic growth rate to 1.7%, the slowest pace since 2009, dragged down by softer exports and housing investment. The Australian economy has notched up 25 years growth without a recession, however, this does not eliminate concerns about the long-term outlook of the economy. The employment data remained stable with the recent unemployment rate remaining at 5.7% and the participation rate at 64.8%, while wage growth remained at record lows of 0.5% in the March quarter and 1.9% through the year until March. The South Australia Government announced a state levy on five major banks in the June State Budget raising concerns that other states will follow suit introducing their own levies on banks. The market effects of the bank taxes from the Federal budget is also being closely monitored. China, Australia's major trading partner, has initiated 'One Belt One Road' as an economic strategy and new infrastructure projects to link Europe to China to achieve rapid economic growth. The China Caixin Purchasing Managers' Index recovered to above the 50 level in June and accelerated to 50.4 from 49.6 in May, indicating an expansion in the Chinese manufacturing activity, thanks to the slight growth in production and new orders.

In structuring the Alpha Small Companies Fund, Alpha Fund Managers seek to select managers demonstrating a proven track record in managing risk and generating long-term outperformance. Alpha Fund Managers blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.

Investment Objective

The Alpha Australian Small Companies Fund may exhibit a relatively 'benchmark unaware' process in pursuit of superior returns, i.e. the fund may not invest into stocks just because they are in the benchmark, thus the composition and returns of the portfolio may deviate significantly from that of the benchmark.

Alpha Fund Managers seek to achieve this objective in each of the Alpha Funds by the blending of a small number of high conviction investment managers, each with a different investment process. This is done so in a complementary manner, so as to produce consistent outperformance with similar or less risk than the benchmark.

About Alpha Fund Managers

Alpha Fund Managers' investment philosophy is based on the premise that there are particular investment managers that have the ability to consistently generate "alpha" over the medium to long-term, and through all financial market cycles irrespective of any style bias (growth vs. value, large cap vs. small cap, etc.). "Alpha" in this context is defined as an investment manager's unique ability to select a portfolio of securities that differs from and outperforms its benchmark on a risk-adjusted basis. In other words, it is an investment manager's ability to beat the index. Alpha Fund Managers' investment process is based on a balanced approach to quantitative and qualitative research and analysis techniques to assess and select the underlying investment managers in each Alpha Fund Series fund. Alpha Fund Managers seek to add value by selecting investment managers who demonstrate a high-level of investment conviction, unique investment processes and a proven record in managing risk and generating long-term "alpha" over full market cycles. Alpha Fund Managers then blend these managers to create portfolios that can achieve consistent, absolute and relative performances, irrespective of where we are in the market cycle.
